The Development Direction

Professional Development from Your Desk!

It's important to learn and grow in our professions, but sometimes we can't find the time or resources to participate in all the professional development opportunities that come our way. Enter The Development Direction. This virtual development offers inspiring TED Talks, motivational book recommendations, and tips and tidbits to help you advance yourself around your schedule. This will come to you monthly via an email from the Professional Development Committee. As Cristie Lucas from Veris Consulting put it, it's "professional development from your desk!"
